ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF THE
STUDENT BODY OF STONEWALL
JACKSON HIGH SCHOOL IN CHARLESTON, WEST VIRGINIA.

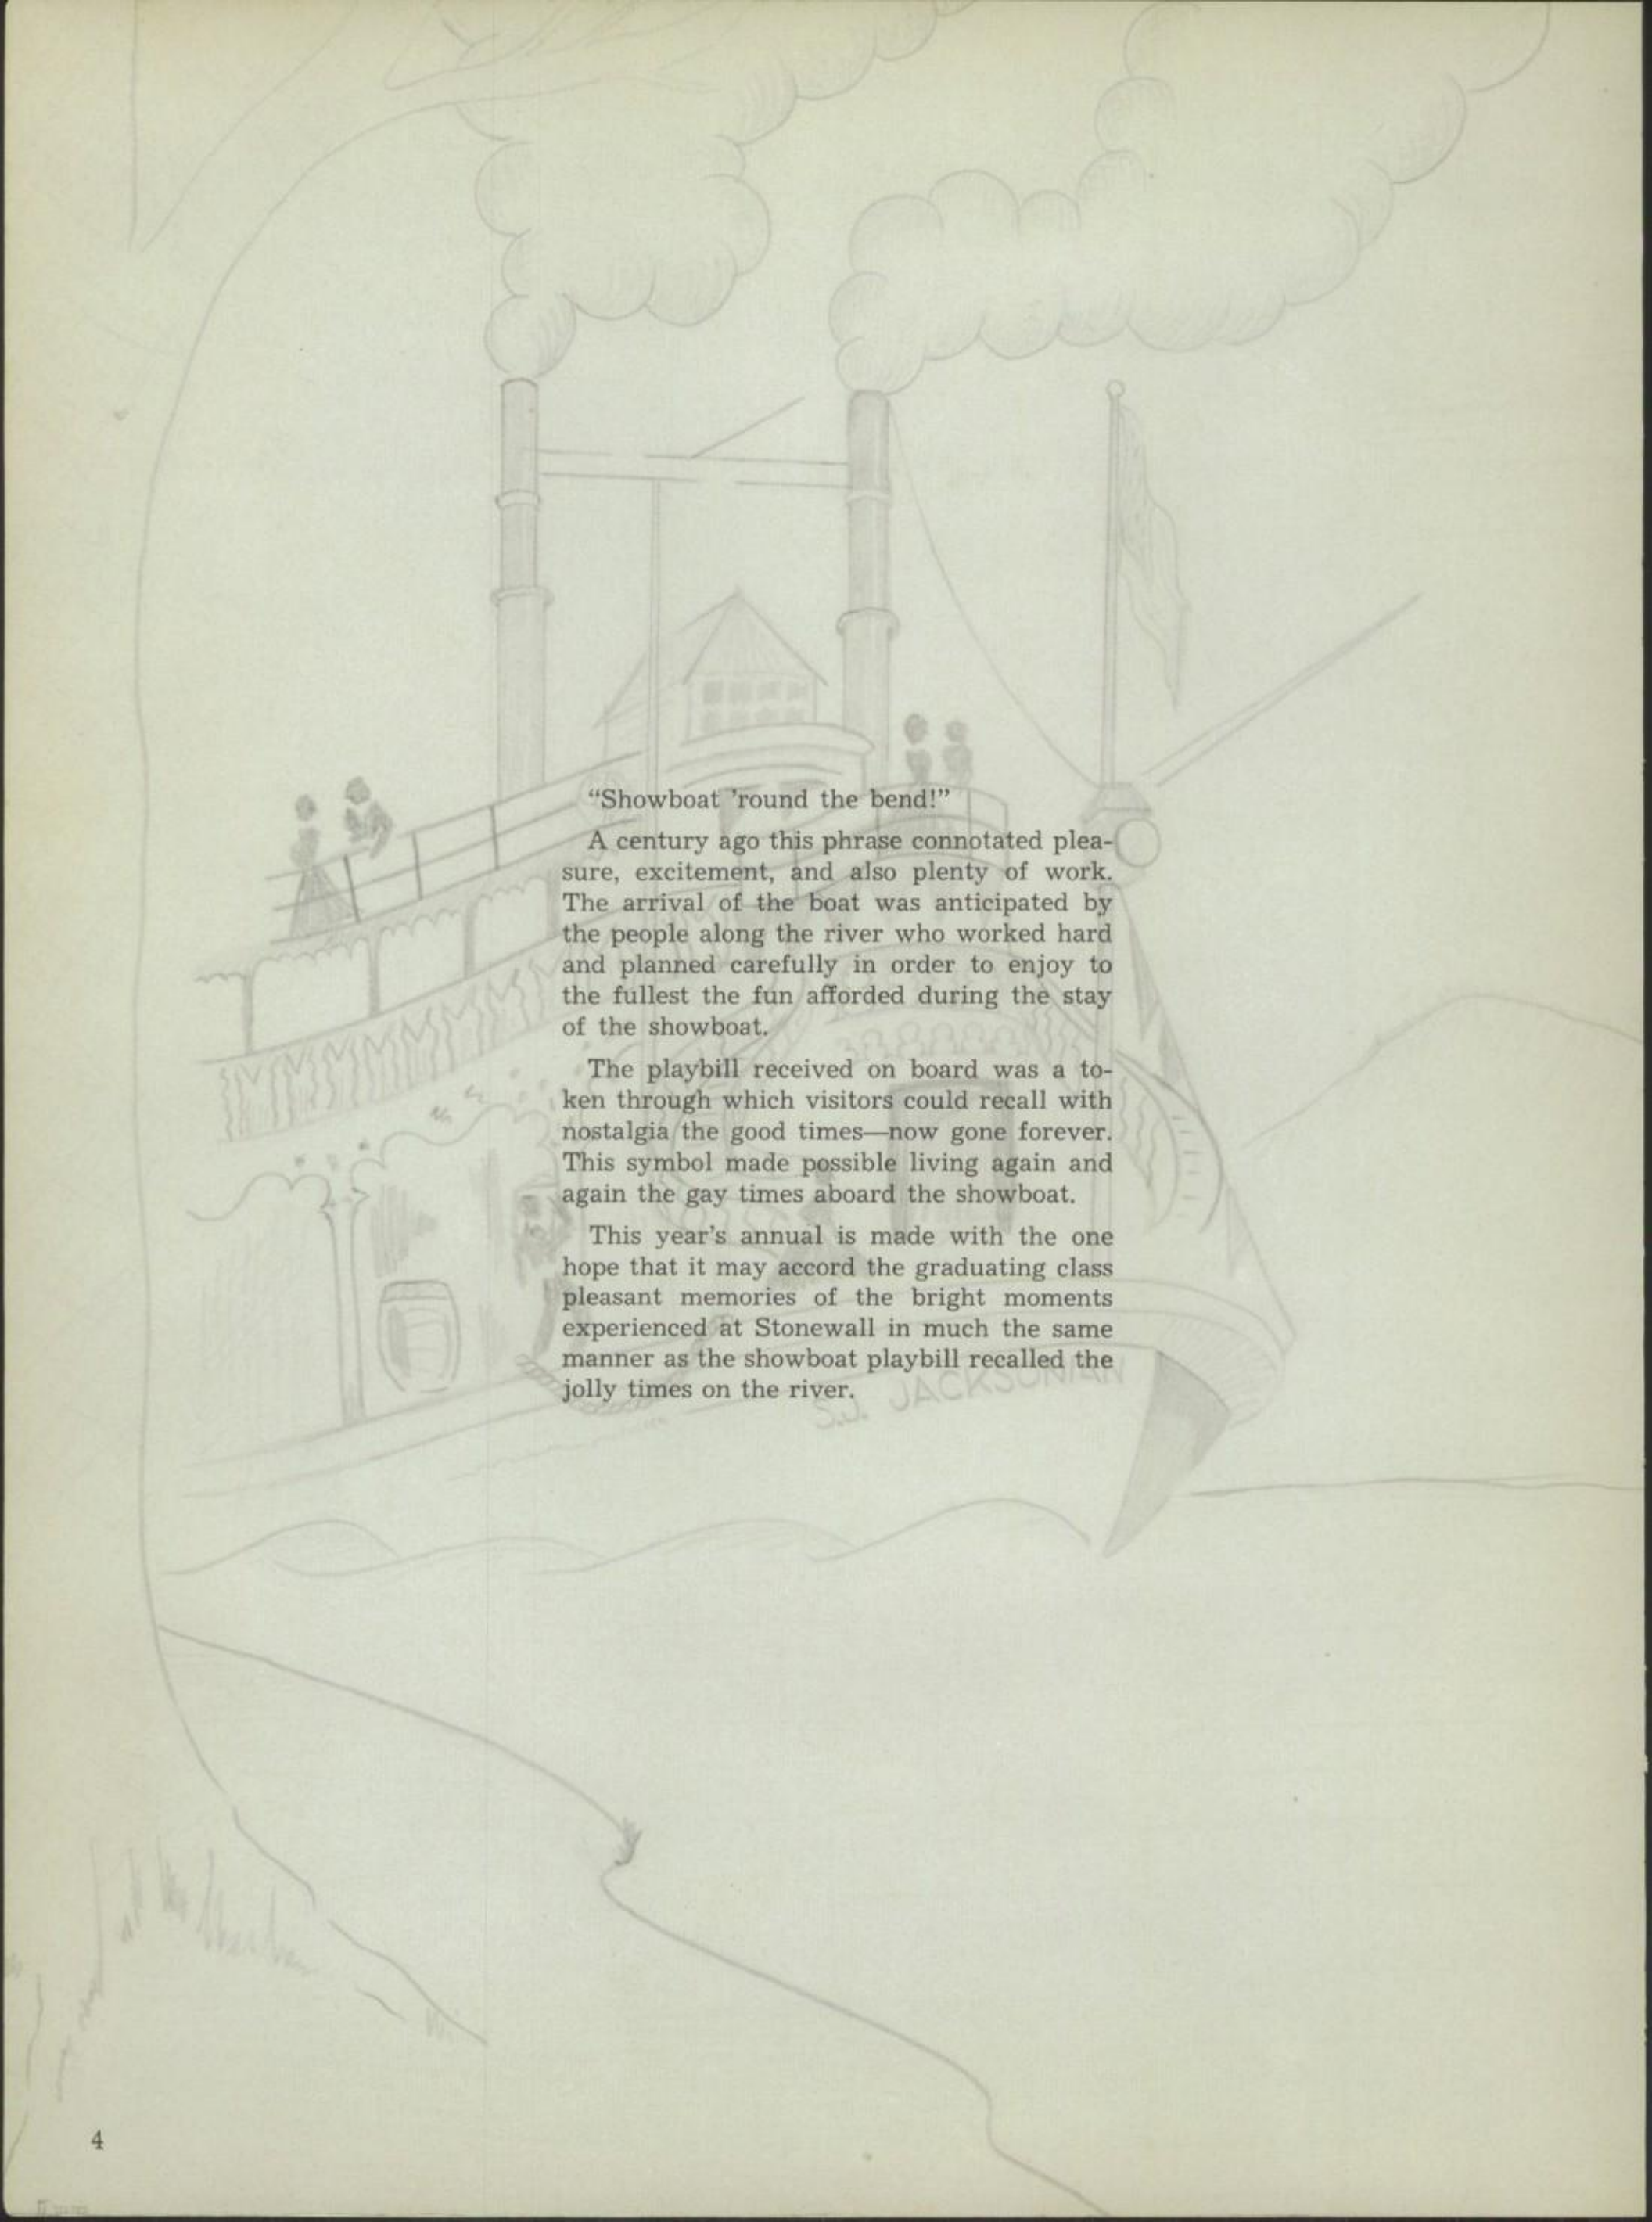
1952



"Showboat 'round the bend!"

A century ago this phrase connotated pleasure, excitement, and also plenty of work. The arrival of the boat was anticipated by the people along the river who worked hard and planned carefully in order to enjoy to the fullest the fun afforded during the stay of the showboat.

The playbill received on board was a token through which visitors could recall with nostalgia the good times—now gone forever. This symbol made possible living again and again the gay times aboard the showboat.

This year's annual is made with the one hope that it may accord the graduating class pleasant memories of the bright moments experienced at Stonewall in much the same manner as the showboat playbill recalled the jolly times on the river.

All hail to Stonewall Jackson we pledge our loyalty — we stand united always, we will honor thee - we'll

ADMINISTRATION

Understanding and cooperation between the administration and the students is the goal set by our principal, Mr. B. Fred Hill. He strives to produce higher scholastic standards. He also encourages guidance in extra-curricular activities to help the student better prepare himself for later life.

Throughout the school day, Miss Virginia Atkinson, our charming Dean of Girls, is busy taking care of the problems that arise from many different activities. It would be impossible to find a more efficient dean who would take as great an interest in the girls.

Good-natured and always cooperative describes Stonewall's Dean of Boys, Mr. George E. Steadman. The personal problems of the boys are soon alleviated under his skillful guidance. He well deserves the position he has secured as one of the most popular executives at Stonewall.

Mrs. Juanita Auer competently acts as secretary of our school. She efficiently performs her many duties, which include handling finances, mail, and school records as well as aiding students and teachers whenever possible. Stonewall students owe much to their capable secretary.

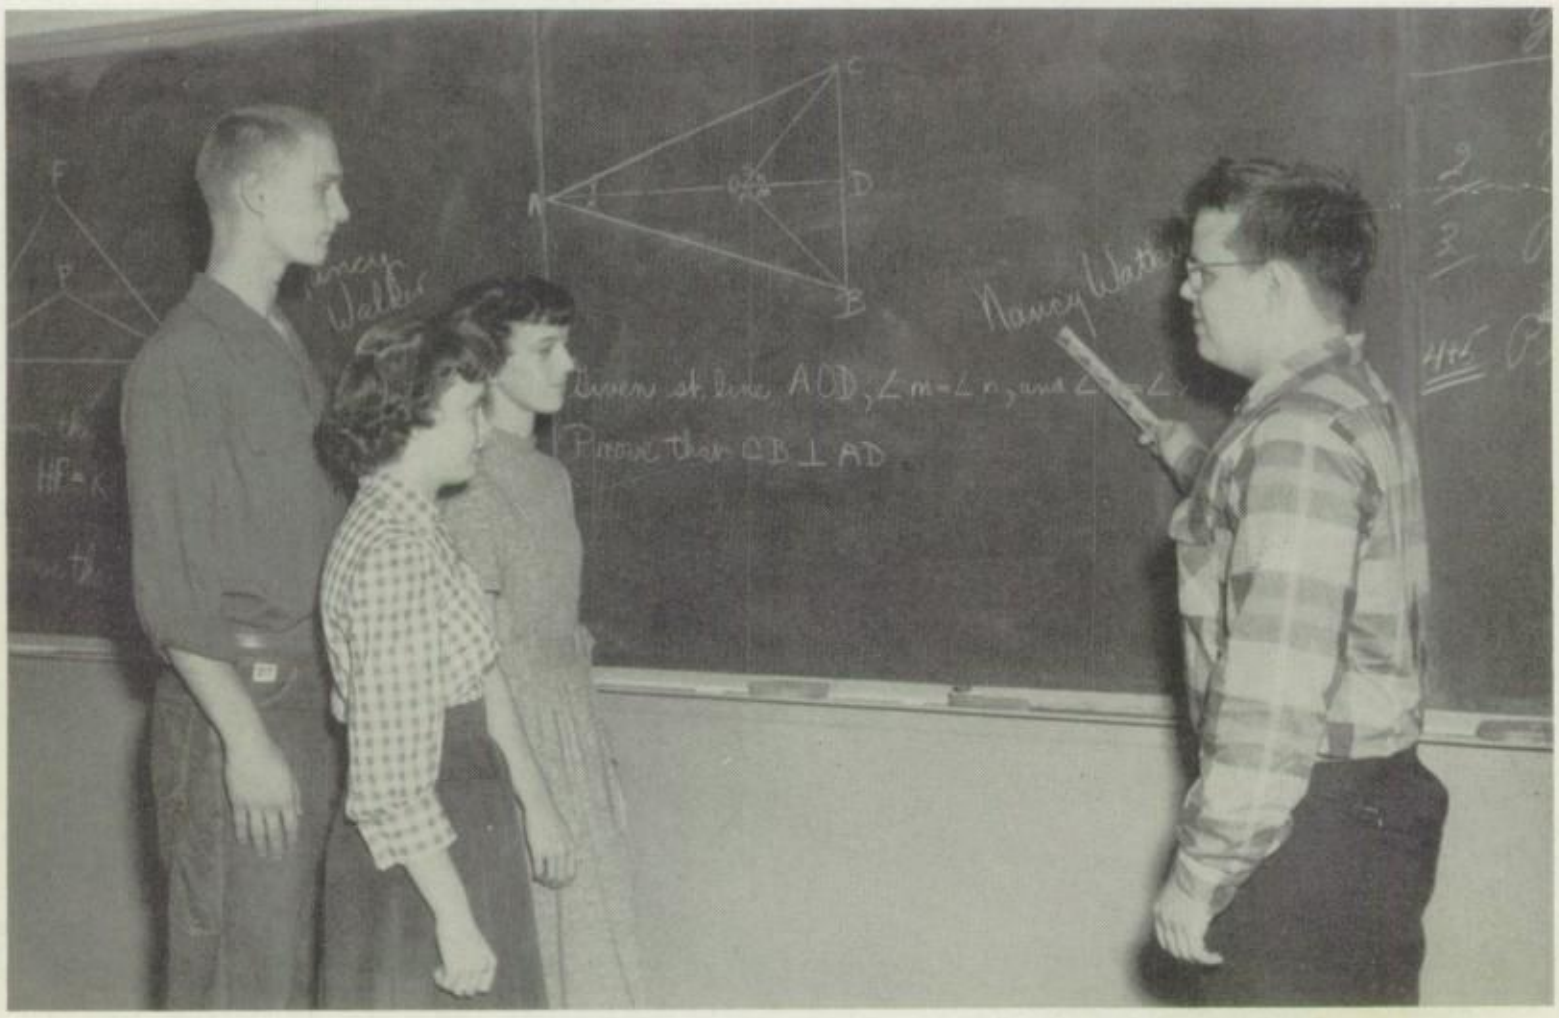
COLLEGE PREPARATORY

Designed to prepare high school graduates for specialized study is the College Preparatory Course. The curriculum is carefully planned so that each student may meet the requirements for the advanced education of his choice.

Subjects which the course includes are those required by most colleges and universities. In mathematics, two or more years' credit is required for entrance. Schools of engineering require two years of algebra, plus plane and solid geometry. Thorough mathematical training is offered for those majoring in physical science, nursing, statistics, and aviation. Chemistry, an essential for those who continue into college chemistry, and a laboratory course in the fundamentals of physics, for those who plan to go to college and specialize in fields requiring math and science, is also offered. Language courses are a vital part of the college preparatory curriculum. Medical schools require two or three years of Latin, and most nursing schools require one or two years.

In addition to the electives mentioned, all students are required to have American history, world history, biology, and four years of English. A full schedule is supplied to meet all requirements for college entrance, thus providing the prerequisites needed by students who intend to enter the professions.



In the plane geometry class, John Warner explains a theorem which aids the students in solving the required problems.

Current publications help the P. O. D. class to understand world affairs.

Latin posters are very interesting to Nina Keffer and David Savage.

Burette equipment aids Connie Campbell and Jim Smith in doing an experiment in chemistry class.

GENERAL COURSE

For those students who do not wish to follow any definite course of study, Stonewall offers the General Curriculum. A wide range of subjects is offered in this course. One may take any of the electives he desires, but along with these he must also take certain required subjects.

Students take the General Course for many reasons. Some, perhaps, do not plan to enter college and therefore see no reason for following the college preparatory sequence. Others possibly began one course but decided they no longer wanted to continue in that curriculum; therefore they switch to the General Course. Then finally there are those students who just can not decide what they will do when they finish school, so they take a variety of subjects. In this way they can enrich their experiences and broaden their interests without choosing a specialized curriculum.

Strength and vitality are obtained through the exercise of playing basketball.

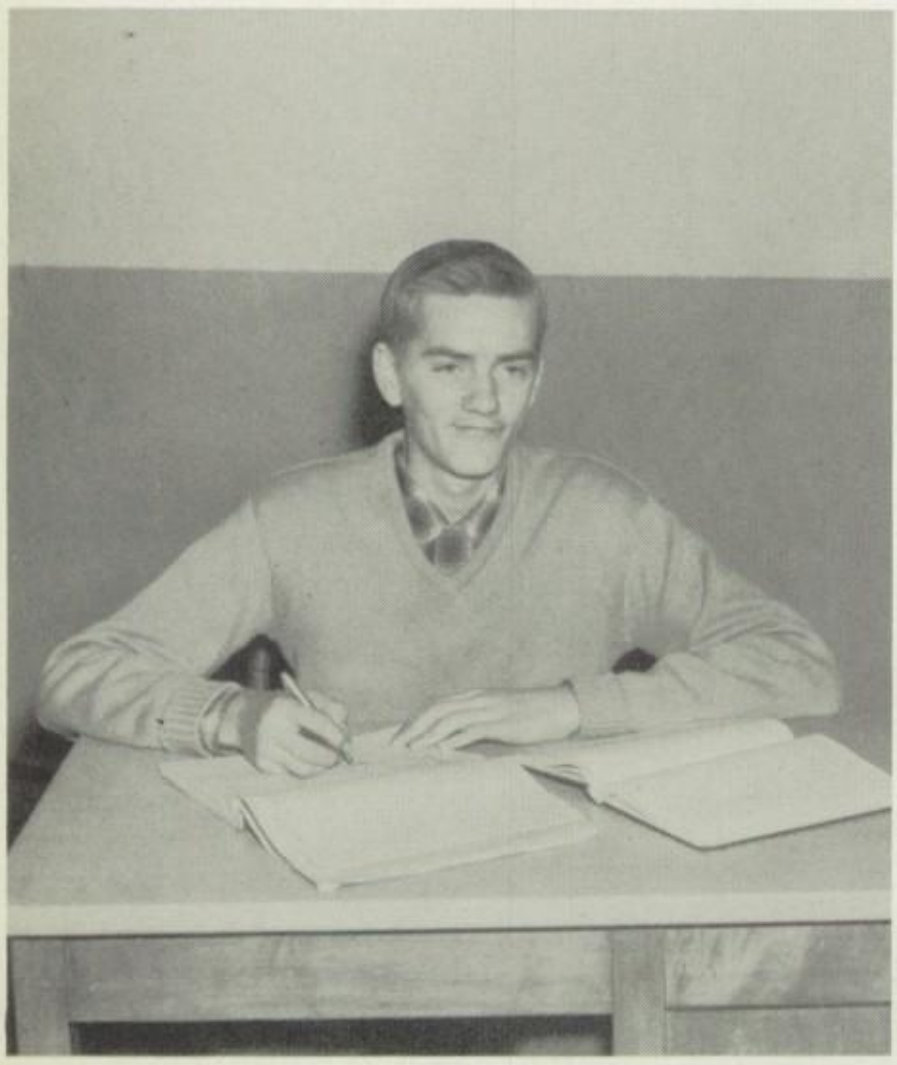
Keeping the proper weight by balanced meals is important to good health.

Reference books and microscopes aid in biology Class.

Diagraming sentences helps Ottis Burgher and Lois Chambers in English usage.

In world history class, Kylene McWhorter has chosen an important area to discuss in regard to current events.

Accuracy and efficiency are the keynotes of training for business students in the shorthand classes.



In bookkeeping class Jack Clark balances his worksheet.

Good salesmanship as learned in D. E. class is demonstrated by Tommy Harpold.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Ranking as the largest in Stonewall, the Business Education Department is composed of a great many students under the supervision of seven teachers. It trains a student in English usage, shorthand, bookkeeping, typing, business math, office practice, filing, and many other useful subjects to help a student in obtaining a position immediately after graduating from high school. The department's plan is to provide guidance, training, placement, and follow-up. Every five years the business teachers of Kanawha County conduct a follow-up of the business education graduates for the purpose of evaluating instructional material and curriculum. The common business principles and practices that everyone should know are incorporated in the more technical as well as the social business subjects. A closely associated organization is the Future Business Leaders of America.

Learning how to use different office machines is an essential part of the business course taught in the office practice class.

PRACTICAL ARTS

To encourage healthful, happy living is one of the goals of the Home Economics department. Food and clothing classes offer training for the more practical side of home life. In these classes, future homemakers have an opportunity to become familiar with the practical arts of the home.

Those who follow the foods course learn the fundamentals of cooking and the making of an attractive table setting. Scientific study of foods, nutrition, and proper choice and preparation of meals are included in this course. Cooking is not confined to girls alone, however; the boys may enroll for the chefs' class as an elected subject.

Clothing courses begin with construction and theory. Under able direction, the girls advance at their own speed. Sewing, poise, and good grooming are a few of the essentials which are taught in the sewing class. All girls could benefit from the training offered in the Homemaking Department, because the most important vocation of life is that of homemaking.

All the boys in Miss Rose's chef class are gathered around watching the demonstration on the art of biscuit making.

In foods class Lois Wilkinson and Peggy Hall are carefully mixing the batter.

The style show is an annual event sponsored by the clothing department.

Knowing the art of sewing is an essential part of every girl's life. In the sewing class all methods of sewing are introduced.

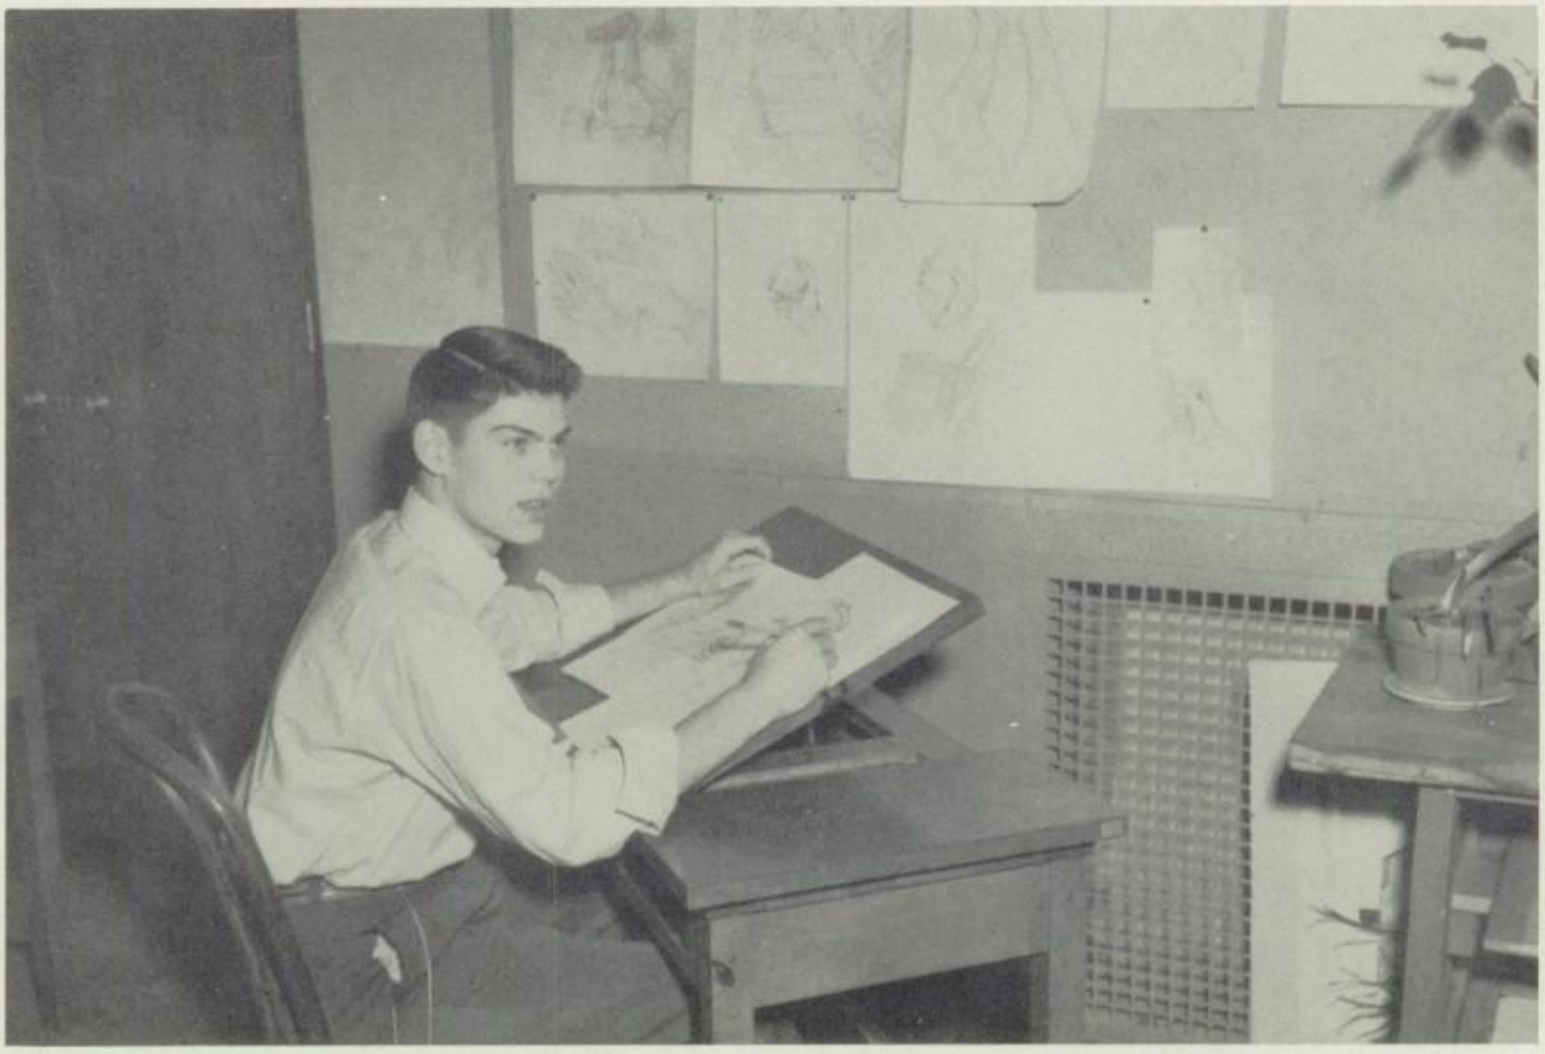
One ensemble of the music department is the string trio composed of Louise, Lou Ann, and John.

A trio arrangement is rehearsed in music class by Bob, Jay, and Dale.

FINE ARTS

The art curriculum serves varied needs. A beginning course includes perspective, lettering, and design. Here students learn to cultivate the artist's ideas in line and color and enrich their work by training the powers of observation and appreciation of beauty. Complete freedom is given to the advanced art students who may work in any desired field so that they may be better prepared for a bright future in art.

An enjoyable and varied program is offered by the Music Department. Subjects taught are general music, which includes an introduction to the related subjects of music history and appreciation; harmony, which is required of music majors; chorus, which provides for both sight reading and stage experience during concert season.

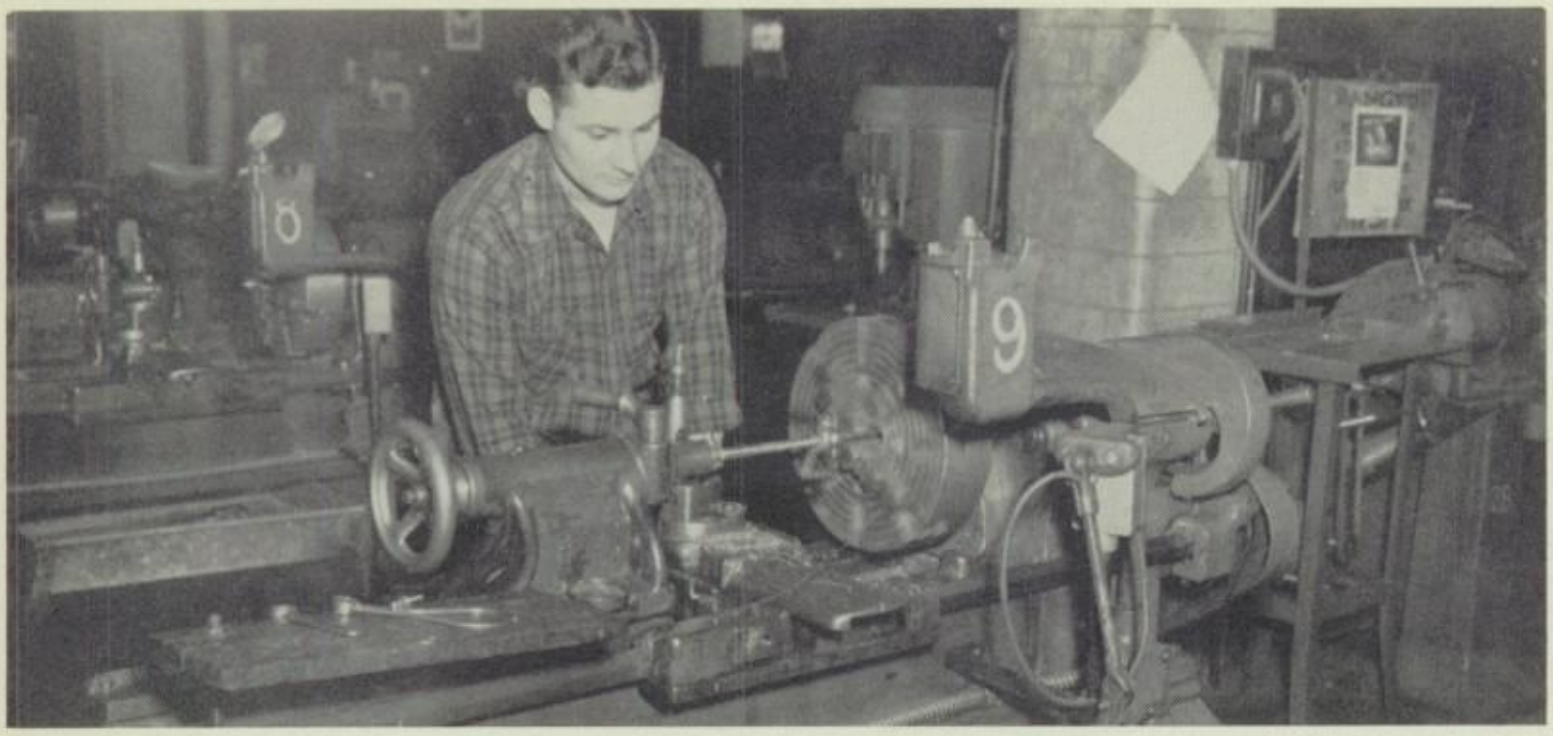


In the art department, Everett is seen as he works on one of his projects.

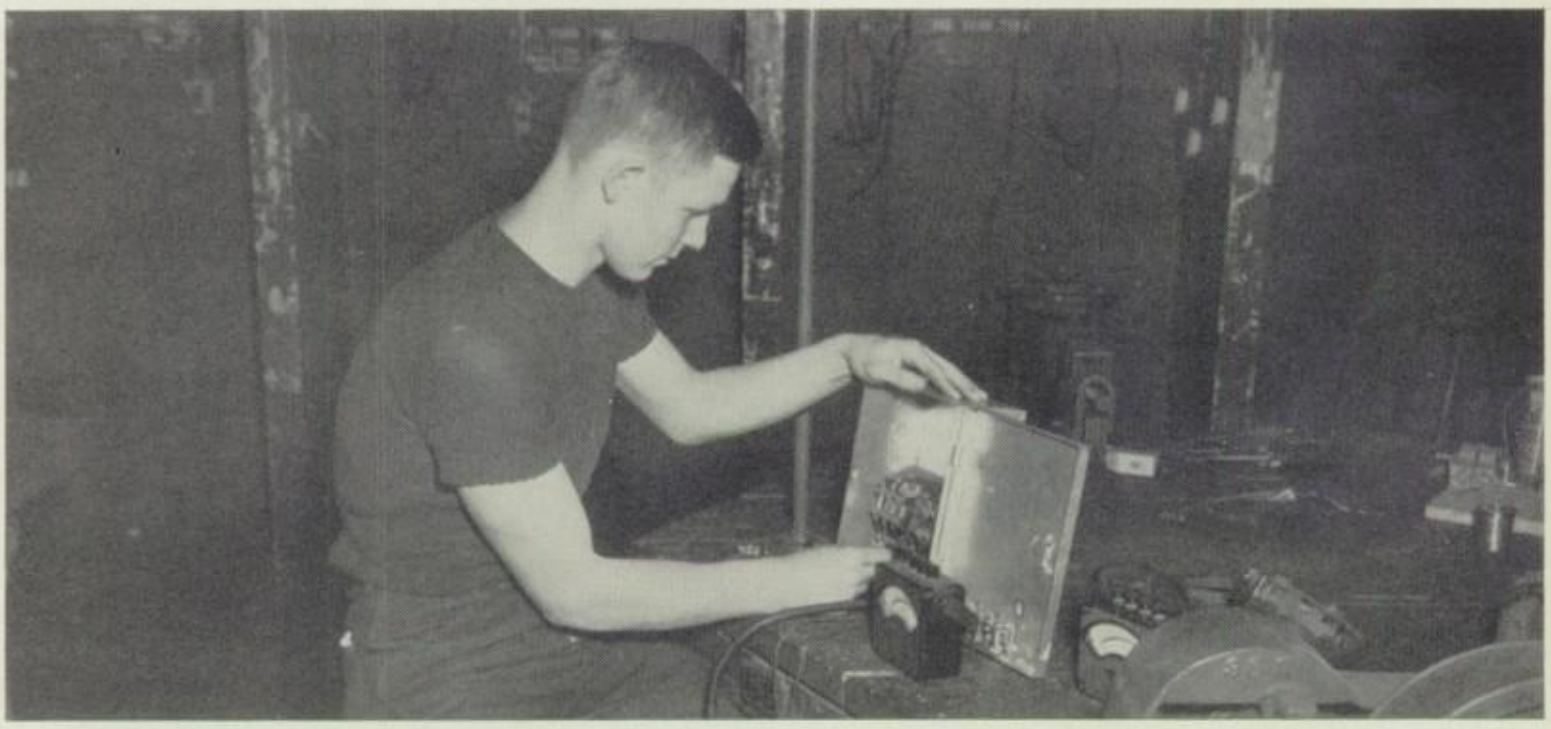
VOCATIONAL

Providing for those who must earn a living after graduation is the purpose of the Vocational Shop Department. It offers unlimited opportunities for the boy who works well with tools and machines. Industrial arts, mechanical drawing, electric and machine shop, sheet metal, and other subjects enable the student to become a skilled tradesman in the field of his choice. Each shop course is organized to present practical experience and knowledge in the basic methods of industrial production and the application of trade fundamentals. All related subjects provide the student with general shop information as to safety, mathematics, and science. The course is opened only to junior and senior boys who can best profit from shop experience. After successfully completing the vocational course, the student is able to take his position as a skilled worker in the community.

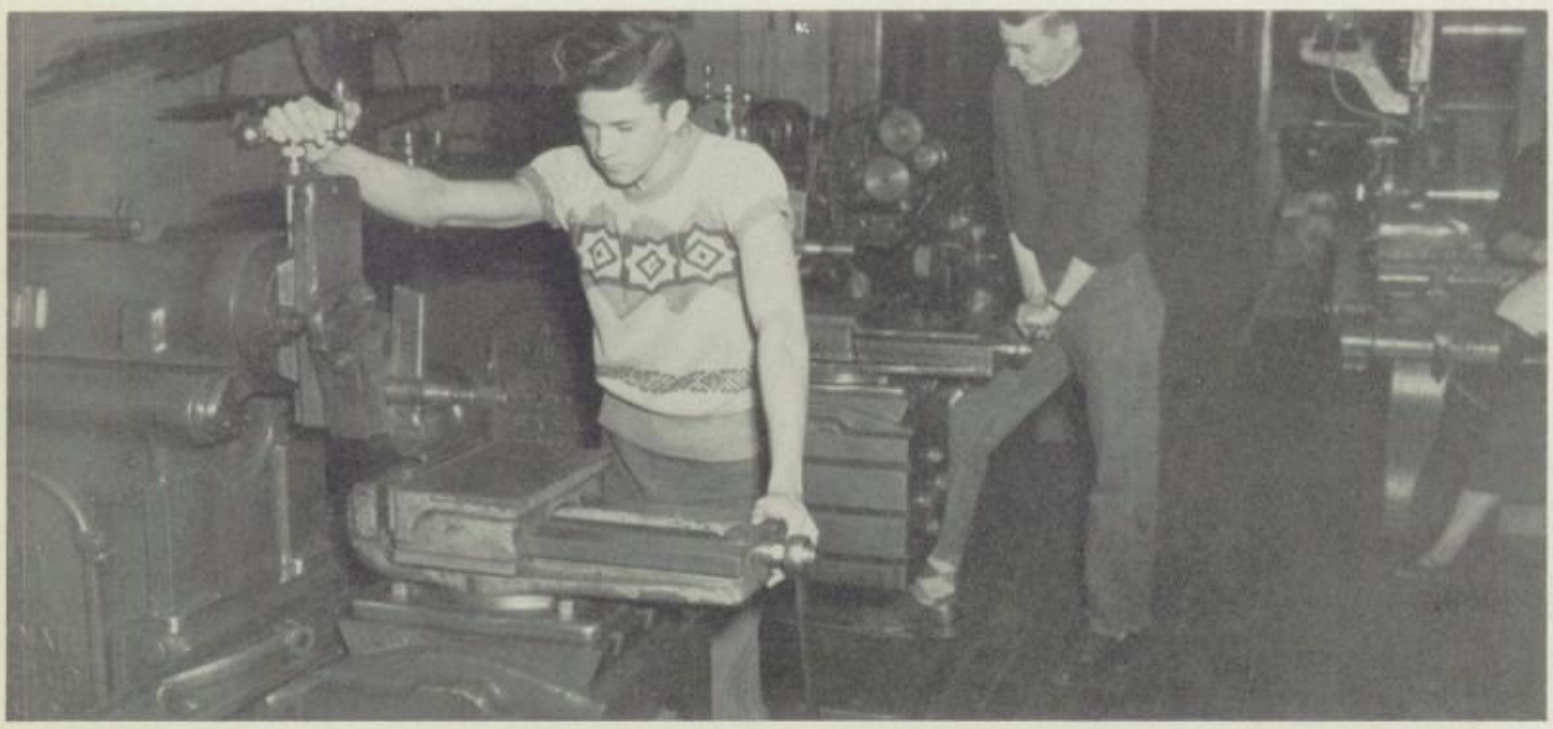
With compass poised and pencil ready, Dick Miller explains the intricacies of the blueprints to Roy Summerfield, Herb Fitzsimmons, and Nelson Harrison.



James Fisher shows that a lot of concentration and skill is needed to work the machines.



Cephas Evans experiments with the automatic garage door opener.



In machine shop, Hobart Harrison and Jim Roberts study their work.

THAT CAN'T BE BEAT

Under the direction of Edgar Loar the Scarlet and Gray Band could be seen at the football games pepping the crowd with their classic jazz and school songs. The band also performed in pep assemblies and at the Band Festival in May of 1951 in Huntington where it received an A+ rating. The Scarlet and Gray Band participated in the Majorette Festival for all Kanawha County high schools in September at Laidley Field. Another colorful feature of the band activities was the Spring Concert, where the music of Chopin, Bach, and other well known composers was heard. The band had 66 marching males and about 106 concert members. Drum Major was Dave Stalder while Charles Schuman was quarter-master. Toni Judy led the high stepping majorettes, most of whom played instruments in the band during concert season.

LANGUAGE CLUBS ENCOURAGE WORLD TRAVEL

La Tertulia, the Spanish Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Costillos, has spent many enjoyable afternoons listening to interesting speakers, discussing the customs and dress of the Spaniards, and watching Spanish dances. Movies which furnish fascinating tours of Spain and Mexico enabled members to become acquainted with the colorful land of bull fights and fiestas.

Playing Latin games, singing Latin songs, listening to reports of Roman customs and laws, taking part in plays—these were among the Latin Club's activities this year. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bush, it was one of the most popular language clubs in Stonewall.

"Magnifique" is the word used to explain the success of the French Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Ruby Chapman. Something new was added this year—conversation groups after school on Fridays. In the homecoming game the club received third prize for their float entry—the money was used for a Care package. Along with the French Club of Charleston High School, they were guests at the Mardi Gras Celebration given by the South Charleston French Club. In April they presented a play, "La Lecon de Francois." Also in April, Emily Via and Jimmy Litton participated in a musical program for the meeting of the West Virginia Chapter of American Association for Teachers of French.

G. A. A. 'S ENJOY FUN, FROLIC, 'N SUNSHINE

Looking trim and neat the Gym Leaders Corps excel in conducting sports and refereeing games.

Cheerleaders must possess many qualities, the most important of which is a good personality and the ability to inspire a crowd to yell. They must be scholastically eligible and have at least two years of physical education.

The Girls' Athletic Association is known as the most active group of girls in our school. They sponsor a wide variety of activities such as hikes, cookouts, and best of all their ever popular square dances.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETIES ARE HIGHLIGHTS

Requirements for National Honor Society are scholarship, character, leadership, and service. To become a member, one must be in the upper quarter of his class. Each year fifteen per cent of the graduating class are initiated. Last year the first initiation on the lawn of the school was held. The students being initiated wore long gowns; and a loud speaker was used, enabling the ceremony to be heard from the lower campus.

Quill and Scroll is an International Honor Society. Membership in the organization is bestowed on students who have done outstanding work in the field of journalism. This honor is achieved by students working on either "The Jackson Journal" or the "Jacksonian." Members must have completed one year or more service on the publication, be at least junior A's, and be in the upper quarter of their class. The Quill and Scroll of Stonewall Jackson is under the capable leadership of Miss Mary Kennedy and Mr. S. P. Armstrong.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT KEEPS THE BOAT ROLLING

The Stonewall Jackson Student Council under the guidance of Miss Doris Cheesman has done a grand job in promoting student activities and aiding in the administration of Stonewall Jackson. Officers included Jack Lawhorn, president; Sam Fleshman, vice-president; and Connie Campbell, Secretary. The Student Council sponsors the paper store, takes charge of the lost and found, plans and sponsors the various assemblies.

Another part of the Student Council is the Executive Council, which is made up usually of the presidents of all the organizations and the officers of the school. Its purpose is to unify student organizations and encourage service toward the school.

TROUPERS, THESPIANS, AND MINSTREL OFFER

"Act well your part; there all honor lies." This is the challenging motto of the Thespians. This national dramatic organization was founded at Stonewall Jackson in 1942 and has since grown to its present membership of 19 well seasoned actors.

Exceptional work in some of the many school plays or in the staging of them, leading to the earning of 100 points for the student is the chief requirement for membership to the organization. Each year new students are taken into the ranks of the Thespians.

The officers this year are Cynthia Comerford, Edwin Huddle, Deborah Sparkes, Dot Carrico, and Rochelle Cashdan. Mr. Ralph Currey is the sponsor of this club.

Thespians are in charge of each committee for the Junior and Senior Plays and instruct small groups. Each year the Thespians observe National Thespian Week with the producing of a one-act play.

Being closely connected with the production of the various plays, the members of this organization gain valuable and needed experience.

TOP-NOTCH ENTERTAINMENT FOR STUDENTS

Bringing excellent entertainment to the Stonewall Jackson student body, Troupers are proud of accomplished casts, excellent productions, and brilliant climaxes. The major productions each year are three three-act plays which are extremely popular at Jackson Heights. Troupers offer their services in the junior and senior class plays.

Many positions are available in Troupers other than the actual participation in the performances. Some work in the roles of make-up and properties committees, set builders, painters, and backstage carpenters.

A very popular club at Stonewall, Troupers boast of over one hundred members. The very willing and efficient sponsors of this club are Mr. Ralph Currey and Mrs. Jeanne Bourne. Also working for the success of the Troupers are the able officers: Bob Weiford, president; Jean Waybright, vice president; and Jane Ann King, secretary.

One of the most colorful events that took place this year at Stonewall Jackson was the minstrel. It was highlighted by songs, jokes, and dances. Under the supervision of Mr. Edgar Loar and Mr. Ralph Currey, this stellar attraction was a colossal success.

The Stonewall Chapter of Junior Red Cross is sponsored by Mr. Orral Burdette. Membership in this organization is made up of 45 members. Meetings are held once a month after school.

Once a year a drive is held to collect money. The money is sent to the Kanawha Chapter where it is disposed of in many helpful ways. Also this Council sponsors movies, fills boxes to send overseas to help needy families, and supports our school in parades and camp activities. Each year two members of the Council are selected to go to a training camp to learn more about the running of the organization.

REACH ACROSS THE SEA

To build fellowship of girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those means of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians is the main purpose of the Y-Teens. Mrs. Faircloth, Y-Teen Adviser, said that the most essential thing in the club work is to help girls grow to be intelligent adults. The Y-Teens have accomplished many projects such as sending chocolate bars to Europe. They participated in the World Day of Prayer Assembly, a world fellowship program, and a radio skit called "The Chocolate Bar." They assisted in the hanging of the greens and also the sending of toys to the Davis Child Shelter and the Cerebral Palsy Clinic.

"Pepita," was the echo heard floating through the halls. This successful Mexican operetta, given in November by the eighty members of the Boys' and Girls' Chorus under the direction of Miss Eleanor Thomasson, proved to be one of the most colorful events of the year at Stonewall. Remember the chant of Christmas carols—it was the Glee Club, attired in scarlet and gray robes, making a picturesque holiday scene. The chorus presented special assemblies and furnished music for various clubs and organizations. A program of favorites was given in February with both the mixed chorus and orchestra participating. Some of the favorites were "Chiapanecas" and "The Donkey Serenade." Also they participated in baccalaureate service and all-state and county choral festivals. To bring musical enjoyment to the school and public is the goal and purpose of this energetic group.

ROUND CHORUS AND ORCHESTRA

The tones of well known and much loved music can be heard flowing from the instruments of the thirty-three members of the Stonewall Jackson Orchestra in the mornings at eight o'clock. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Edgar Loar, is the only orchestra in Kanawha County and one of the five in the state. The music for the operetta, "Pepita" was provided by this group. "A Program of Favorites" was presented by the chorus and orchestra. Gershwin's "Little Rhapsody in Blue" and "Carmen" were two of the many favorites played. The orchestra contributes greatly to school activities by playing for school plays, graduation exercises, and Parent Teachers Association meetings. The most outstanding members are chosen to play in the All-State Orchestra and some of the members belong to the Charleston Symphony Orchestra. These are honors which almost all strive to attain.

LIBRARY AND OFFICE ASSISTANTS, MOVIE

Library Club Officers: R. Newberry, R. Renick, M. Botkins, R. Layne.

One of the most helpful groups in Stonewall Jackson is library assistants. They have the job not only of carding, shelving, and checking out books, but also of directing puzzled or bewildered students to the right shelf. These efficient girls are trained to assist students in using the Readers Guide. They help in keeping the library attractive by planning and decorating the bulletin boards. The library serves as center of information of the school. The girls are here to help students at all times.

The officers of library assistants are Margaret Botkins, president; Rita Renick, vice president; Rose Newberry, secretary-treasurer; and Ruth Layne, reporter.

Office Assistants. First row: P. Priestley, J. O'Dell, C. Shaver, M. Hall, S. Bowden, F. Hudkins, E. Skeen, K. Harrison, K. Shaw, B. Wall. Second row: H. Powell, P. Covert, J. Clendenin, R. PROJECTORS CLUB GIVE VALUABLE SERVICE

To qualify as an office assistant, a girl must have a "C" average or better and should be approved by at least one faculty member. The office assistants do not receive any credit for their work and serve as assistants during their study hall periods. Some of the jobs performed by these girls are filing, answering the phone, collecting absence slips, calling homes about the absentees, and helping the student body in scheduling. These girls can be found in the offices of Mr. Fred Hill, Mr. George Steadman, and Miss Virginia Atkinson at all times doing their various jobs.

Quick and efficient. That describes the work of the thirteen members of Motion Picture Projection Club under the sponsorship of Mr. C. H. Martin. By the use of study hall periods and other spare time, these operators run, in an average year, around 150 pictures and from sixty to seventy film strips. Their efficient work goes unnoticed for the most part, but is a fine example of careful and skillful handling of equipment for the benefit of the student body. Among the projects for this year is a drive to secure funds to purchase a new projector.

SCIENCE CLUB AND FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

To educate students interested in scientific matters is the purpose of the Stonewall Chapter of the West Virginia Junior Academy of Science. There are twenty-five members in the club. Under the guidance of the faculty adviser, Miss Virginia Karnes, and the leadership of Rochelle Cashdan, it has become a very successful organization. To become a member a student must have completed two years of science with an A average or three years with a B average. Induction is after the third nine-weeks' grades are received.

"Toward New Horizons" is the motto of the Future Homemakers of America. Members can always be seen around school helping others. Some of their activities for the past year have been entering a winning float in the homecoming game and baking cookies for extra money. At the regional meeting in Gassaway, the Stonewall chapter had charge of the balloting. Among the interesting speakers were Miss Waterman, who spoke on home life in England, and Miss Newman, whose subject was "Personality."

A club for all students enrolled in the business department, is the "Future Business Leaders of America." The aim of this organization is the development of aggressive, competent business leaders. This club of 120 active members holds parties and contests throughout the year to raise money for small things in the business department. This year it sponsored a spring dance called the Gold Diggers' Sock Hop. The event that is looked forward to most is the choosing of "Miss Secretary" in the early spring.

Under the capable leadership of Coach Russ Parsons, the Varsity Club is doing an excellent job in promoting better sportsmanship in the student body.

"Save your rebel dollars; the South'll rise again!" This was the stirring slogan of the Hi-Y Homecoming float at the Parkersburg game. The Stonewall Hi-Y under the leadership of Frank Taylor, president, and Mr. George Steadman, sponsor, have had a varied program. The Thanksgiving program, the annual initiation held each March, and the popular hayrides given each spring and fall, along with the task of building a Youth Center at the Y. M. C. A., are some of the undertakings of this club.

The membership of the social studies council consists of two representatives elected each semester from all the history classes. This year they were honored by hearing Miss Jean Ryburn, who has just returned from three years of teaching at a girls' mission school in Cairo, Egypt.

Sponsored by Mrs. S. P. Armstrong, the active members of our Future Teachers of America attended the installation of the Elkview chapter. Their year's activities were high lighted by a study of Margaret Moyer's book, "The Career of Teaching."

JACKSON JOURNAL

Through the halls, in and out of forty-five classrooms, and up and down the stairs, travel the sixty-five news hungry reporters of the Jackson Journal. The Journal, which is published bi-monthly, is one of the most outstanding school papers in the United States.

Editor for the first semester was Jack Massau; co-editors for the second semester were Libbie Cline and Jean Parkins. They were assisted by Rochelle Cashdan and Peggy Lanham, associate editors; Connie Campbell and Jimmy Meador, news editors; Sam Fleshman, sports editor; and Cynthia Comerford, personnel editor.

Under the experienced direction of Mr. Stuart P. Armstrong, the Jackson Journal has achieved nation-wide recognition and many honors. Among them are National Scholastic, All-American, Quill and Scroll, George Gallup Honor Award, Southern Interscholastic Press Association, Pacemaker, All-Columbian Literary Honors, and All-Columbian Advertising Honors.

Sponsored activities were the "Jackson Jollities" and a trip taken to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association convention in New York.

Going over advertising for the Christmas issue of the Journal are Nancy White and Elaine Strock, editorial page editors; Bob Johnson, advertising manager; Sue Ann Hamilton, business manager; and Connie Campbell, news editor.

Marching to the call of duty in 308 are these Journal stalwarts: Don Lee, art editor; Gilbert Sears, former sports editor; Don Griffith, sports reporter; Dean Parkins, circulation manager; and Frank Taylor, sports reporter.

Talking over shop before home room period are Jane Ann King and Betty Eary, Journal typists; Bob Weiford, former veep of 308; Ed Huddle, 308 ex-prexy; and John "Barrel" McDavid, Journal photographer.

One job of Journal staff members is to review publications from other schools and keep abreast of Journalistic advances. Gathered around the magazine rack in 308 are Cynthia Comerford, personnel manager; Peggy Lanham, associate editor; Dot Carrico, picture editor; and Jimmy Meador, news editor.

Jacksonian Staff. B. Carney, Editor.

JACKSONIAN STAFF

"Two copies of everything" and "Remember March 12 is the deadline" are phrases that regularly drifted from the annual office during the day. The Jacksonian staff had a great responsibility to compile a pictorial account of the entire school year.

The first part of the year was spent in organizing and preparing a general plan for the book. By February everything was completed, and a final check was made before going to press. The Jacksonian staff agrees that in order to appreciate the annual you must assist in producing it.

FIRST DOWN AND GOAL TO GO

Displaying a stalwart forward line and a bruising back-field, the Stonewall Jackson Generals produced their most successful team since 1947, when they went unbeaten and became Co-champions of the State.

Led by co-captains, Boyce Jarrett and Herb Fitzsimmons and quarterback Don Griffith, the Generals smashed Logan in their opening contest 19-0, and continued their triumphant march by smothering Ashland, Ky. 47-20 in a game highlighted by the pass completions and interceptions by right end Henry Summers.

Supporters of Stonewall received a terrific scare in the East Bank game as the Generals squeaked past East Bank, 6-0. However, this did not slow the Generals down as they outraced the Weirton Red Riders 27-20, smeared Ripley 40-0, and smashed Fairmont, 19-12.

FOOTBALL RECORD

	We	They
S. J. vs. Logan	19	0
S. J. vs. Ashland	47	20
S. J. vs. East Bank	6	0
S. J. vs. Weirton	27	20
S. J. vs. Ripley	40	0
S. J. vs. Fairmont West	19	12
S. J. vs. Parkersburg	40	13
S. J. vs. Huntington East	34	6
S. J. vs. Charleston	27	33

The last three games of the season contained elements of surprise, joyfulness, and utter despair. The surprise was registered in the Parkersburg game in which Stonewall romped to a 40-13 triumph, avenging last year's defeat. The joyfulness came from the 1200 loyal fans who journeyed to Huntington to see Stonewall smash the Highlanders 34-6, in a game bogged down by a blizzard. The utter despair came from the hearts of loyal Stonewall fans as the unbeaten Generals met the oft-beaten Charleston High Mountain Lions, only to receive a stunning 33-27 defeat.

Outstanding players for the year were Don Griffith, Henry Summers, Ike Hartman, and Bob Downs, and all-staters Herb Fitzsimmons and Boyce Jarrett.

GENERALS COMPLETE SEASON

STONEWALL vs. LOGAN

The Stonewall Jackson Generals began their 1951 season with a smashing win over the Logan Wildcats. The Generals were the better team of the contest, although they got off to a slow start. Boyce Jarrett was the leading ground-gainer in the game, racking up 121 yards. The accurate passing of Donnie Griffith accounted for two S. J. touchdowns, while Roger Stover and Herb Fitzsimmons were outstanding linemen. The team showed great promise in their first game, and the outlook for the oncoming season was bright.

STONEWALL vs. ASHLAND

Led by the outstanding play of Henry Summers, who tallied four times, the Generals skinned the Ashland Tomcats, 47-20. Stonewall was blessed with good luck from the very beginning, when Summers scooped up a fumble and ran 94 yards for a T. D. The bullet-like passing of Donnie Griffith was one of the deciding factors in a game that was slowed by wet ground. Fullback Jack Lawhorn received a broken ankle in the game and did not see any more action this season.

STONEWALL vs. EAST BANK

Edging past East Bank by the narrow margin of one touchdown, Stonewall kept their hopes for a state championship alive. The Generals went scoreless until early in the fourth period, when Donnie (the Brain) Griffith fired a forty-yard pass to Ike Hartman for the lone touchdown of the game. Boyce Jarrett's attempt for the conversion was low and the score remained 6-0.

STONEWALL vs. WEIRTON

A thunderous ground attack, superior coaching, and a burning desire to win spelled out catastrophe to Weirton High School, as the "mighty mites from Jackson Heights" remained unbeaten. Approximately 9,000 sweltering fans witnessed one of the most thrilling games of the 1951 season as the Generals posted a 27-20 victory over the Red Riders of Weirton High. Stonewall's scoring was evenly distributed between Don Griffith, Jim Pritt, Bobby Downs, and Eddie Johnson. Boyce Jarrett made three out of four placements to complete the scoring.

STONEWALL vs. RIPLEY

The Ripley Vikings proved to be no match for the power-laden Stonewall team, as the Generals rode to an easy 40-0 victory. The game was highlighted by long runs, as Boyce Jarrett scored the first touchdown with a 96-yard run. However, Don Griffith outdid Boyce as he ran 99 9/10 yards for another touchdown. Scoring honors for this game went to Bob Downs and Boyce Jarrett, who scored two TDs each, and Don Griffith and Eddie Johnson, who also chipped in with one each.

STONEWALL vs. FAIRMONT WEST

Long runs and the undying will to win gave the S. J. Generals a penalty-ridden, 19-13 victory over the Fairmont West Polar Bears. Jerry Hartman was the standout of the game as he scored all of Stonewall's touchdowns and was the sparkplug of the defensive attack. For this outstanding play, he was chosen "Player of the Week." The Generals were penalized 130 yards to the 90 yards of the Polar Bears, and this helped to slow up the game.

STONEWALL vs. PARKERSBURG

Stonewall Jackson lowered the boom on the Big Reds from Parkersburg, 40-13, as they completely outplayed last year's state Champs in one of the most exciting games of the season. From the time the Generals cut short an opening Parkersburg drive and bulldozed 61 yards to score in eight plays, the game was in Stonewall's control. The bruising line, the outstanding ground-gaining of Bobby Downs, Boyce Jarrett, and Ike Hartman, and Don Griffith's slick quarterbacking, were the big factors for moving the Generals one step closer to the coveted state title.

STONEWALL vs. HUNTINGTON EAST

Playing before 1200 loyal, but frozen Stonewall fans and half as many Huntington supporters at Fairfield Stadium, Stonewall proved that they could play in any kind of weather, as they swamped the Huntington East Highlanders, 34-6. Spearheading the attack were Jarrett, Hartman, Johnson, and Summers. Henry Summers appeared in his old form as he ran two Huntington fumbles for touchdowns. Some of the highlights of the battle were Griffith's 30-yard touchdown pass to "Ike" Hartman. Eddie Johnson's great showing in the fullback position, and the undying will to win of the General's squad.

STONEWALL vs. CHARLESTON

The General's hopes for the State championship and return of the Elk Bucket were smashed by the "lucky 'leven" from Charleston High School, with a smash-bank victory of 33-27. Stonewall led at the end of the first half, 13-7, but the rejuvenated Mountain Lions came back in the third quarter to rack up 20 points to none for the Generals, which snuffed out any hopes for the return of the ol' Elk Bucket to the West side. However, this did not upset the fighting spirit of the team, for they unleased a vicious attack in the final quarter, scoring 14 points. This was not enough, for Charleston also scored and the game ended, 33-27.

GENERALS COMPLETE JINXED SEASON

The 1952 Stonewall Jackson basketball team ended its regular season with a record of 12 wins and 8 losses. In the Kanawha Valley Conference, the Generals wound up in third place, preceded by Charleston and South Charleston, the only teams in the Conference to beat Stonewall, both defeating the Generals twice.

As for games outside the conference, the Generals dropped all four of the games, two to Huntington Central, one to Huntington East, and one to Parkersburg.

Stonewall swept through the sectionals, defeating Nitro 69-49, and walloping Dunbar 76-54 in the finals.

In the regionals, the Generals met with the strong Charleston team and were defeated 72-58 to stop the Generals drive toward Morgantown and the state tournament.

The first five consisted of Jack Lawhorn and Eugene Klamer at guards, Bob Tweedy and Jim Pritt at forwards, and Jerry Hartman at center. Substitutions were Jim Vincent, Don Griffith, Allyn Griffiths, John Hamric. and Jim Laughlin.

LITTLE GENERALS SHOW GREAT PROMISE

The Little Generals of Stonewall Jackson proved that there were great things to come as they rode to an undefeated season, posting 19 wins and no losses.

Led by such promising prospects as Jim Laughlin, Kenny Burdette, and Larry Hemmings, the Generals held their opponents to an average of 47.1 points per game as they racked up an average of 70.7 points per game.

As for individual averages, Jim Laughlin led the team with an 18.3 average and was followed by Kenny Burdette, who had a 14.9 average, and Larry Hemmings, who had a 13.0 average. Others high in scoring were Frank Martin and "Chuck" Simpson, who proved their value at the guard positions.

The most exciting game of the season was played with East Bank as the Little Generals battled the Little Pioneers through three overtimes to defeat them 86-84.

Of the three years that Coach Giannakis has coached the "B" team, the 1951 season was his most successful.

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME

The able pitching of Bob Parsons, Jack Doyle, and Jack Jones led the S. J. baseballers to a season record of 11 wins and 8 losses.

Although the team was inexperienced, it showed much promise in fielding and hitting. Outstanding seniors were Bob Parsons, Bob Johnson, Dave Frame, Jimmy Graham, and John Farris.

Bob Johnson played a stellar role in the hot corner, while Jimmy Graham and Gary Bloss covered the territory around second base. Jack Smithers played a big part at first base.

Outfielders were John Farris, Bob Lynn, Floyd Jeffreys, Jack Lawhorn, Eugene Klamer, and John Hamric.

Most of the first team graduated, but the sophomore prospects looked good.

The Stonewall Jackson thinclads ended the 1951 season with a perfect record. The Generals, at the beginning of the season, started slowly, but gathered momentum with every meet they won.

Fighting from beginning to end, a team composed mostly of sophomores and juniors went all the way for Stonewall Jackson. With the able coaching of Russ Parsons and his assistant, Ferg Giannakis, the team was unsurpassed. Many points were gained in the broad jump by the special coaching of Mr. Hamilton. Some of the mainstays of the track team were big Dean Dugger, who broke the State record in the shot put in the State meet, and little Bobby Downs, who ran a number of events and was high point man in the State meet. Ike Hartman, Jay Hamilton, and Don Griffith were some of the top hurdlers; and foremost in the dashes were Hartman and Downs, while Stover, Johnson, Jones, and Summers were the top men in the distance runs. Our relay teams also did a great job.

This is the fourth consecutive time the Generals have won the State title. This record is tied only by Charleston high. Next year we hope to break the tie by winning the State title five times in succession.

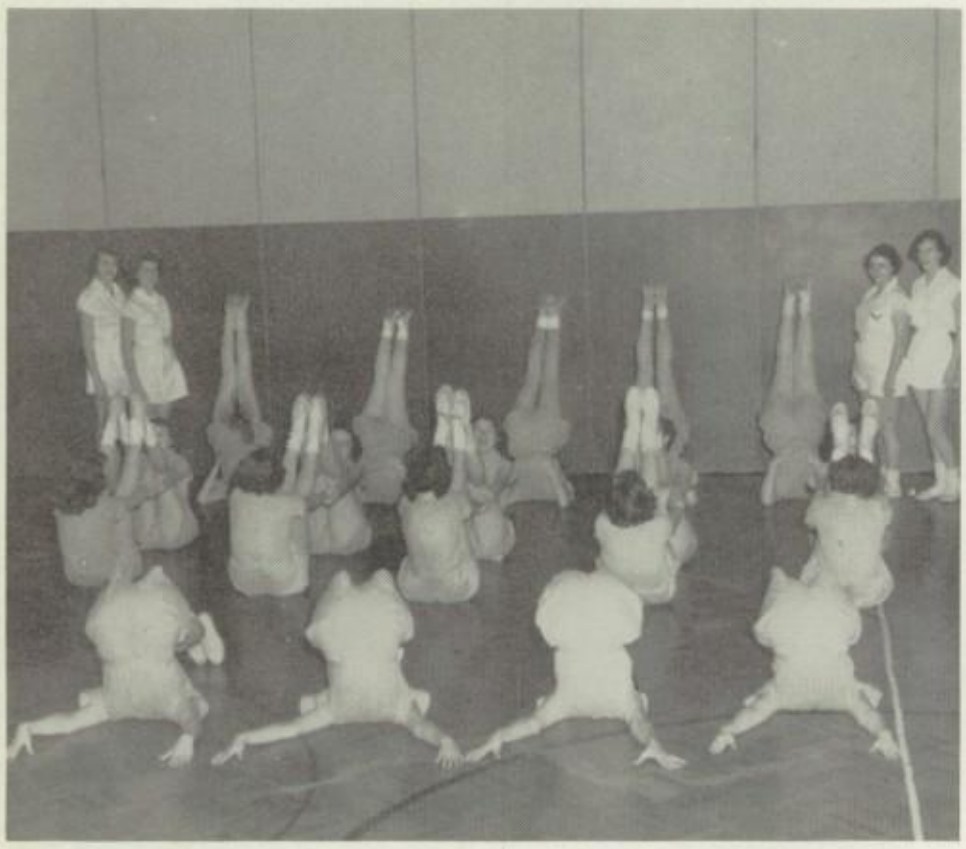
GIRLS ENJOY



Stonewall girls have a full program of athletic activities including softball, volleyball, basketball, badminton, and table tennis. Although the girls do not participate in interscholastic competition, they travel to Huntington annually for an invitational "Play Day." Also included in the well rounded athletic program are hikes, cook-outs, swimming, and horseback riding.

aims to keep these girls physically as well as mentally fit. Gym leaders work as Miss Drasnin's assistants, taking over the many small duties in the gym.

Wednesday health classes are also part of the course. Here the girls are taught to look forward to the lives ahead of them. Miss Drasnin believes that a healthy girl who knows the fundamentals of a good marriage is well prepared for the future in a home of her own.

Top: Sophomores anxiously await the outcome of a foul shot. It may mean an extra point for them. Top right: Badminton is one of the girls' favorite sports. Here Miss Drasnin gives a few instructions for holding and swinging the rackets. Lower right: "Get that ball" is the anxious cry of both teams. It may mean extra points for us. Bottom: This exercise is hard work but the girls know that it keeps them slim, trim, and healthy. It is new to the sophomores, but they seem to be catching on.

MISS STONEWALL JACKSON

Miss Toni Judy, senior and head majorette of Stonewall's Scarlet and Gray Band, was elected by the student body to reign at the football game with Charleston High. She won two gold keys in the National Scholastic art contest this year and has attained many other honors. Her attendants are on the following page.

JACKSON JILLS

Fran Alderson: An active senior with a bright sparkle in her eyes, possesses a pleasant and enthusiastic personality. Fran is especially active in extra-curricular activities including Y-Teens, G. A. A., and orchestra.

Frances Shamblin: A striking blonde with blue eyes and a quiet personality is Frances Shamblin. She is active in many school activities and clubs. She has participated in Y-Teen assemblies such as the World Day of Prayer and is vice president of the club.

Jane Saunders: One of Stonewall's attractive senior cheerleaders, Jane is an ardent supporter of S. J. Her cheerful personality bubbles over in her sweet smile.

Nancy Don Freed: Popular head-cheerleader of the peppy S. J. cheering squad, has a friendly "hello" for everyone. Nancy is a girl of many talents.

Cary Caperton: Assistant head cheerleader, pretty, popular Cary is an active senior. She is well known for being president of the Spanish Club and performing in plays.

Pat Ankrom: Lovely senior member of S. J.'s majorette corps, she is also active in the G. A. A. A pleasant disposition and smiling eyes are characteristic of Pat.

MEET CORLISS ARCHER

The Junior Class presented "Meet Corliss Archer," a comedy in three acts. It was directed by Mrs. Jean Bourne, assisted by Mr. Ralph Currey. Prompters were Helen Powell and Lois Rollins. Student director was Jimmy Meador.

Upper left: "Corliss, please don't die!" These are Dexter's words to pretending Corliss. Upper right: "Bottle!", screams the horrified Agnes to the bewildered Archer family. Center: Shocked at the realization that Dexter is a juvenile delinquent, the two families sit in stunned silence thinking of the calamity. Lower left: On her return from the hospital, Corliss finds herself the center of attraction, but the absence of Dexter saddens her.

PEPITA

On November 29th and 30th, 1951, the Stonewall Jackson Mixed Chorus and Orchestra presented the gay Mexican operetta "Pepita." Ballet, comedy, singing and dance routines were included.

The story is one of romance and adventure in which an American millionaire, his valet, and his sister Jane visit picturesque Mexico and find among other things a band of smugglers.

Above: "Mexico, I love you so, It is the place for me" was one of the main themes of the operetta. Right: "Sigh not at your ill fortune. It will not linger long. So while away the time with us, with dance and merry song," explain Felipa, Carlos, and Pepita to Pedro, played by Emily Via, Bob Johnson, Shirley Hearn, and Dale Freeland respectively, as he sings of his woes. Lower left: Mr. Hepworth's valet, "Butch" Hardman, is being served a tortilla after returning from the smuggler's hideout in the mountains. Lower right: The debonair American millionaire, Henry Hepworth, played by Jim Watson, finds Pedro's daughter quite attractive. She explains in song that she must leave him now, "but only for a little while."

JACKSON JOLLITIES

Upper left: Our own Mario Lanza, Dale Freeland, who captures all the girls' hearts while he sings "Because of You." Upper right: John Booth, "Professor with the big nose," plays boogie by heart and really makes it swing. Center: Nancy Don Freed and Bobby Weiford, veteran performers of the Jollities, as they sing and dance "How Could You Believe Me When I Told You That I Loved You When You Know I've Been A Liar All My Life." Lower left: Shirley Roberts, sophomore, dancing for first time in Jollities was considered by all as "wonderful." Lower right: The entire cast of "Jollities of '51" after they had completed their "Show of Shows."

ENCORES

Upper left: Frances Alderson was the lovely senorita on the Spanish float. She is being serenaded by some caballeros. This float won first place. Upper right: Mrs. Stonewall Jackson was also on hand. She received a generous kiss from Pat Ankrom and Toni Judy. Center: The Future Homemakers float won second prize. It showed the contrast between modern and pioneer homemaking. Lower left: The G. A. A. sponsored float representing the Stonewall football team. Lower right: This very amazing float was entered by the Stonewall Hi-Y Club.

Upper left: Sally Leonard, playing for the Classic Piano Recital sponsored semi-annually by the "Journal." Upper right: Stonewall Jackson placed three winners in the Charleston Symphony Poster contest: (second from left) Richard Bartlett, (third) Everett Parsons, (fourth) Don Lee. Center: Dave Stalder, runner up, is congratulating Jimmy Massey of Charleston High, winner of the Drum Major competition in the Kanawha County Majorette Festival sponsored by the Charleston Daily Mail. Below: Y-Teen girls who presented the World Day of Prayer Assembly. (First row) D. Harrick, N. Ocheltree, L. Rollins, P. Shumate, C. Boling, K. Harrison, S. Bowden. (Second row) D. Hargraves, W. Jones, F. Shamblin, F. Alderson, N. Naylor, J. Campbell, D. Warner, M. MacDonald, M. Grimmett.

Above: Schools for Freedom, an assembly given in connection with American Education Week, consisted of a brief skit in which students representing famous people reviewed the contribution made by each to education. Also a panel discussion of democracy in everyday life was given. Right: Dale, Bob, Fran, and Shirley gather around the Christmas tree during the Style Show presented by Home Economics Department. Below: For the first time in Stonewall Jackson's history, a National Honor Society initiation was held on the campus, and the student body thought the ceremony impressive and inspiring.

THIS ANNUAL WAS LITHOGRAPHED BY

MATHEWS PRINTING & LITHOGRAPHING COMPANY

600-602 CAPITOL STREET

CHARLESTON, WEST VIRGINIA

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

As the show is over and the audience begins to leave, the cast is left with a feeling of joy that the play is over and with a deep feeling of gratitude towards those who have been indispensable in producing this annual.

With loud cheers of thanks to Mathews Printing and Lithographing Company for their fine workmanship; to Mr. W. W. Wallace of DeLuxe Studio for his excellent photographing of our seniors, organizations, athletics, and faculty; to Miss Mary Kennedy for her unlimited time and work in directing the publication of this book; to Mr. Byron Meyers for his valuable advice to the art staff—we begin to leave port and start toward our next destination. But as we go, we certainly can not forget our sponsors and advertisers who have loyally supported us through the stormy weather.

To the cast and crew of the "Jacksonian Showboat" for their boundless patience and cooperation in the success of this annual, we hope that this book will be a gay reminder of all the happy carefree hours they spent aboard the "Showboat."
